Day #	Details	Action
1	Initial discussion was had regarding the current situation of the course and what the goals of the working group are. It was determined that goal was to identify theoretical material could be moved to the DLN so that face to face training could be reduced to one day with an approximately 2 hours online prepackage. This should make it easier for members to take refresher training as the new course would only be 1 day. Increase training throughput with less instructor resources. For most refresher training it attendance only as long the student participates in all the training activities. It was decided that the new version of the course will still be attendance only, but that staff will have the discretion not to recertify a member based on their performance or attitude. Should a member not meet the standard and not gain the recertification a written debrief is required to support any potential TRBs. This is especially important should a member submit a grievance.

Day #	Details	Action
	It was decided that the DLN courseware will contain a pass/fail knowledge check to prevent members from just clicking through the material. A potential risk identified was students getting someone else to complete the online portion of the training for them. The board decided that this is an acceptable risk, and any academic dishonesty will be address as and when it comes up. The instructor qualification was pulled directly from the current NETP course. Confirmed the practical lesson timings with SMEs. Confirmed the basic structure for assessments. An assessment checklist will be created to support instructors and be used should there be a student experiencing difficulty.
2	Work of the board was reviewed by SMEs for accuracy and post board activities were delegated. - References need to be identified from Sea training. - Course material developed and vetted by SMEs. - Checklist created and vetted by SMEs.

QSWB HISTORY

1. QSPWB 01 Dec -04 Dec 2009 was conducted to identify and add any new trg concepts and to delete obsolete trg elements. Fire Fighting Trg is also conducted at CFFSE; however, there are no details in this draft to that effect. As such, CFNES QAO recommends that CFFSE include some comments in:

a. Record of Amendments paragraph;

b. FORWARD, para 3b. or create a new para 3c;

c. Ch 1 paras that may be specific to CFFSE (Crse Capacity, Crse Loading, etc);

d. Other?

2. CFFSE Cmdt supports this QSP for approval (Email, SLt Farmilo (CFFSE) / Lt(N) Risser (CFNES), 17 Jun 11.

3. Email, Capt(N) Page (DMTE) / LCdr Melnychuk (CFNES QAO), 30 Jan 12 (CT QSPs):

The item you addressed below was discussed at the CMTS but we did not formally make a decision simply because one was not required. Having said that, the current naval collective training construct has always required that the CT QSPs be managed for content by the TE CCAs. The role of the Collective Training Cell in CFNOS is to manage the entire CT program for the Navy with respect to currency, relevancy, coherency, new requirements and responsibility distribution. Therefore, the Foreword material in the QSP you are referring to should be changed if it is related to CCA responsibilities.

Hope this clarifies the situation. I will ensure that it is understood at the next NTWG and/or CMTS.

Merci.
