REFERENCE MATERIAL

5. Documents related to this OJPR are:

a. Ship’s Standing Orders (SSO’s) AL9 CH4;

b. SSO’s Vol II;

c. Manual of Ceremony for HMC Ships, Submarines and Naval Reserve Divisions;

d. Naval Force Protection Policy; and,

e. CFCD 132 – Damage Control Manual.

PLANNING AND CONTROLLING ON-THE-JOB TRAINING

6. The Commanding Officer shall direct the Chief Boatswains Mate (CBM) to be responsible to establish a training system and methodology on board to ensure the proper and timely training of Brow Watch Keepers. They are not to permit anyone to stand duty as Brow Watch Keeper until satisfied in their abilities. To accomplish the objectives of this OJPR package, the CBM shall establish the following:

a. a schedule with the Divisional Training Petty Officers to coordinate Brow Watch Keeper training and tracking of individual progress in the training tracker in MM;

b. a maximum rotation of one and ten double banked overnight duty watches are stood prior to performing the final walkthrough/ board examination; if the member goes beyond the required timeline or is significantly behind on their package they shall be placed in a one and three rotation;

c. a representative with a minimum rank of PO2 and/or appropriate qualification/position, who is authorized to sign-off each PO; and,

d. that, upon completion of this package, all those standing Brow Watch Keeper watches have Annex G of SSOs completed and are assigned a MITE code.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR TRAINEES

7. Any problem encountered during the training period should be immediately brought to the attention of their designated Divisional Training Petty Officer and the CQM.

8. It is in the trainee's best interest to progress with his/her training program as quickly as possible. Each PO should be practiced in slow time until the required measure of proficiency is attained. When the trainee considers that he/she has the knowledge and dexterity to complete the PO under the stated conditions, and to the standard required, he/she should request a designated assessor to examine their abilities. On successful completion of the PO, he/she should ensure their OJPR is updated.

CHAPTER 3

ASSESSMENT OF TRAINEE

GENERAL

1. Each PO in Chapter 4 may be considered as a progress test. The member's ability to perform the POs collectively is a test of his/her ability to perform the duty.

ASSESSING PERFORMANCE

2. Once the trainee has successfully practiced the PO, such that he/she is confident and capable of independently performing the task to the standard stated in Para 3, he/she shall be assessed by the designated assessor; this assessment is as equally important as the instruction itself. Ideally, the number of assessors should be kept to a minimum to avoid a diversity of acceptable performance. It is therefore essential that specific senior personnel be assigned to evaluate the OJPR and performance assessment.

3. Para 3 of each PO describes the acceptable standard of performance, i.e. the acceptable manner or performance required. Para 3 of the PO is to be used by both instructors and assessors to instruct and evaluate trainees. While every effort has been made to ensure that the POs are accurate and complete, there may be instances, where because of differences in ships within the Class, i.e. machinery fitted, a PO can be omitted or altered at the discretion of the CBM. The applicable PO shall be annotated in the OJPR by the CBM.

4. If, after a period of instruction and practice, the trainee cannot perform the PO in accordance with the stated standard, the instructor and assessor should together ascertain the cause. It must be remembered that individuals will differ greatly in dexterity, ability to learn, speed of reaction, motivation, application, etc. In most cases, additional time for practice and/or study will suffice and alleviate any problems. If, however, all avenues have been explored and the trainee cannot perform the PO to the stated standard, the Departmental Chief Petty Officer should be informed. Under no circumstances should a trainee be checked off as having completed a PO unless he/she has completed it successfully. To do so would jeopardize both the trainee and the ship. If, for reasons of equipment unavailability, a trainee cannot practice or be checked out on his/her own ship, alternate arrangements shall be explored on other units.

5. Completion of this OJPR qualifies personnel to stand as Brow Watch Keeper. This qualification is Class-specific and, once granted this qualification in a HALIFAX-Class frigate, an individual need not re-qualify for that same class of vessel unless his/her qualification is later revoked by the CO.

ON-THE-JOB PERFORMANCE REQUIREMENT PACKAGE

6. This OJPR has been designed to meet the following:

   a. to record a trainee's ability to perform the duties in accordance with the OJPR;

   b. to assist in planning and controlling the OJT for each trainee by providing a record of progress in this training;

   c. to provide the CBM with a performance record on which to grant a qualification; and,

   d. to provide the information required for the trainee's record system.

ACTION ON POSTING OR TRANSFER

7. Each unit is to use and update the Monitor Mass training tracker on a regular basis to ensure the training progress is captured. When a trainee has been posted or transferred to another ship prior to completion of the training, his/her OJPR is to be reviewed by the Divisional CPO. The name of the ship, in which the training was conducted, is to be entered in the "Remarks" column against each completed PO and the percentage completed is to be annotated. Once reviewed the original OJPR is to be carried by the member to their new unit and presented to their Divisional CPO of that unit IOT continue and progress their package.
